

The foundation of our hat trade, like our clothing trade, is solid merit. Nine men in ten wear derby hats. Ninety-nine out of every hundred of our hat customers buy our $3 derby, because it satisfies every demand for a first-class hat.

Being fair is the only way to do business; our Fall book tells all about it; free.

Sale, September 10 to September 15.

Monday morning, September 10th, will find on our counters an immense number and great variety of Fall and Winter Garments, in all weights and of every make.

The prices are moderate beyond description. Coats, Cloaks, Jackets, Capes and Wraps, made of finest materials, with costly lining and trimmed with expensive Braid, Lace or Fur Trimming, marked without regard to cost or value, because they belong to past styles.

A large number of Garments will be sold for $5.00.

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th Street.

each one table of Odds and Ends at $2.00 each; some of the richest pieces will be marked $10.00 and $15.00 each.

Also, a very large variety of Fur Cloaks, Sealskins, Persian Lamb, Sable and odd Cloaks or Capes of various Furs, brought over from other Seasons, will be marked so as to be entirely sold out within the week from Sept. 10th to Sept. 15th.

This Sale is similar to our sale of light weight Garments held in June, but of greater importance and even more attractive.

No alterations made.
